Town Budget Drafters Expect Lower Increase

By Julie M. Barry

Next year's budget figures are not etched in stone. But one thing's for sure: the town will not be faced with a 14 percent increase like last year.

The first budget model put out in December estimates that Andover will experience an increase in the range of 3.5 to 5.6 percent. These numbers, cautions Finance Committee Chairman Joanne Marden, are preliminary and will probably be different in January's revised budget model.

"We won't see it any worse than 3.5 percent," said Anthony Torrisi, finance and budget director. Torrisi said the increase would probably be in the 5.6 range.

The Finance and School committees, Board of Selectmen, superintendent of schools and town manager met in mid-December to review the budget model. The purpose of the joint meeting—the first of three—was to reach an agreement on the allocation of money between the town and schools, said Marden.

"We should be able to work together to come up with a plan that's best for the town," she said. The above parties will meet again Jan. 17, at which time an updated budget model will be available.

The model lays out town expenditures and revenues to determine available funding in the upcoming year and is used for preparing operating budgets for salaries and expenses, said Torrisi.

Property taxes, including new growth, make up the majority of Andover's revenues; it was responsible for 66 percent of last year's total revenues.

Since property valuation wasn't complete when the tax bills went out last October, those numbers are estimates in the December model, said Marden.

Real figures should be available for the second draft budget model being prepared for the Jan. 17 meeting.

The bottom line figures continually change until town meeting, said Torrisi. But "the magnitude of changes gets smaller and smaller as time goes on," he added.

The numbers have to be somewhat firmed up by Jan. 20, when the town manager's report—which allots money to the various town departments—is complete, Torrisi said.

State aid is another source of revenues. "Towns were advised in the fall not to expect increases," Marden said.

Seeming hopeful, Marden said she didn't think state aid to Andover would be cut. The state's financial woes won't affect Andover as much as other communities, she said, because the town doesn't receive as much aid to begin with.

Local revenues like motor vehicle excise tax and licenses add to the town's income. Also included are revenues from increases in water and sewer rates.

The December estimate of town revenue came to $54,648,400, a figure 5 percent higher than last year. "I would expect this number to change," Marden said.

Some expenditures include fixed costs, such as debt services and insurance, and joint expenses, like maintenance and personnel, which are shared operations of the town and school department.

The December estimate of expenses totalled $19,588,580. This leaves a balance of $35,059,820 available to operate the town and school departments, a 3.5 percent increase over last year's budget.

Assumptions in the model brought a hopeful 5.6 percent increase over the budget in fiscal year '89.

Andover's new post office on Stevens Street will open for business Tuesday. Administrators and letter carriers will be moving from the cramped Main Street post office, built in 1936.

Post Office Changes Address

By Frank Messina

Today, like many people, Tony Mendoza will be preparing for the coming long weekend.

Unlike most, he has put a great deal of planning and time into figuring out just what he's going to do. Four years worth, to be precise.

While New Englanders hit the slopes or pursue some other recreational endeavor over the Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday weekend, Mendoza will be organizing the long-anticipated post office move into its new quarters on Stevens Street.

On Jan. 17 the new post office will open for business without any disruption in service, promised Mendoza, the Andover postmaster. "The move has been well-organized, we'll be ready," he said.

Mendoza said he has been waiting a long time to change addresses. "I've been planning and looking forward to moving since I was promoted (to postmaster) in 1984...it'll be like paradise."

The postmaster and his 86 employees have been paying their dues in the cramped confines of the Main Street facility, vintage 1936, which requires Mendoza and his supervisors to administer from desks stuffed into the basement.

How smail is the place? Even the letters come in sideways, goes the running joke. Starting Tuesday, Mendoza can make the mail come in any way he wants.

The newer, bigger facilities will

Story Sessions To Resume

This winter, children aged 2½ to 3½ will once again meet in Memorial Hall Library's activity room to listen to stories, sing songs and play simple games with their parents and peers.

"Listen with Mom," a weekly half-hour story session, will begin Jan. 30 for four weeks. There will be three groups, one each meeting on Tuesday, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. The guided sessions, geared to help promote a toddler's language development and listening skills and help parents and children discover the materials best used for the age group, will end with a few minutes of unstructured time for free play, so that tiny patrons can enjoy the many diversions the Children's Room has to offer.

Registration will run Jan. 17-27. For further information, stop by the desk in the Children's Room or call the library.

"Films on Friday," a popular weekly program for preschoolers, will resume in early February.

The walls of the music room virtually sing this month with the watercolor virtuosity of Gloucester artist Suzanne Brailey. A graduate of Jackson von Ladau School of Fashion in Boston, she worked for several years as a fashion artist. After traveling in Europe, Brailey studied at the University of Wisconsin and with American Watercolor Society artists/teachers Win Jones and Phil Austin. She has won awards for her work and has taught watercolor for Western Wisconsin Technical Institute.

The works displayed at the library include still-life studies, a variety of familiar and foreign landscapes and harbor scenes of the Gloucester area where she has lived since 1982.

TOWN HOUSE TOPICS

Candidates' Workshop Planned

The League of Women Voters of Andover will sponsor a candidates' workshop Thursday, Jan. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the School Committee meetng room, second floor of the School Administration Building. The workshop is open to anyone interested in seeking elective office. The panel will include Elden Salter, Andover's town clerk, a current selectman and school committee member and former campaign managers. They will cover campaign finance reporting, filing of nomination papers and the "dos and don'ts" of running a campaign. For further information, contact Linda Borland or Linda Tommasino.

Mahony Dinner Speaker

The winter dinner of the League of Women Voters of Andover on Wednesday, Jan. 18, will feature town Manager Ken Mahony as speaker. Local LWV members, guests and friends are invited to make reservations for the Marriott Hotel event, beginning at 6 p.m. with dinner at 7 p.m.

Mahony will discuss "The Role of the Town Manager in Managing Town Growth and Development." Anyone interested in town government and public affairs is welcome. Contact LWV Hospitality Chairman Amy Goldman, 49 Wildwood Road, to make a reservation and indicate dinner selection.

Burning Season To Begin

This year's open burning season will be from Jan. 15 to May 1. Only brush and forestry debris other than commercial or industrial land clearing material will be allowed under the following guidelines:

1. Burning must be at least 75 feet from all dwellings.
2. A garden hose attached to a suitable water supply must be provided.
3. Burning must be carried out between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.
4. Burning must take place on land that the material is being cleared from.
5. Notification of the fire department by the owner of the land is required each day burning is to take place.

For further information, call the Andover Fire Department.

DCS Makes Changes In Booklet

The Department of Community Services has made several changes in its winter/spring booklet: Disney's World on Ice, Feb. 23 (not Feb. 16); B*Beauty and the Beast*, May 13 (not May 20); Shawsheen Extended Day Program registration for West Elementary School district, March 29, and for South and Sanborn School districts, March 30. Cheering will be postponed to a later date.

Safe Walkways

Andover Postmaster Tony Mendoza says the number of injuries among letter carriers last year was high. Carriers slipped, tripped and fell during inclement weather.

Most of these accidents could have been prevented if walkways and porches had been kept in good repair, clear of obstacles or had been shoveled, salted or sanded, Mendoza said. He urges Andover residents to ensure safe access to and from their property to avoid such accidents.

DCS Slates Winter/Spring Classes

Registration for the Department of Community Services' winter/spring courses begins Wednesday, Jan. 18, at the Doherty Middle School auditorium from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Enter the building through the auditorium doors across from Central Park only. Classes begin the week of Jan. 30 unless otherwise indicated.

Bancroft School To Honor Mrs. Collins

Bancroft Elementary School will honor Andover teacher, Mrs. Jane Collins, who is retiring after 29 years of service to the schools, on Wednesday, Jan. 25.

There will be an open house in the media center from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. where present and former students, parents and friends may stop in to say "hello" to her. Refreshments will be served.

Collins is a true veteran of Bancroft School, having taught there for the entire 20 years of its existence.

Most school children can tell you two negatives make a positive, but few can name the man who first said so. It's said to have been John Lowth who first laid down that rule of grammar in 1762.

Donovan Awarded Scholarship

Steven Donovan, son of Charles and Judy Donovan of 63 Bartlet St. received the Nichols College achievement scholarship award for the 1988-'89 academic year.

Donovan, a sophomore, is a graduate of Andover High School.

Achievement scholarships are awarded in recognition of demonstrated excellence in academics, school or community leadership and special talent areas.

Nichols, a four-year, independent college with 1,000 students, is a center for the study and practice of free enterprise capitalism, primarily emphasizing business and public administration, administrators said.

Named Benefit Chairman

Rosemarie Peele of Andover has been named chairwoman of the donations committee for the Children's Museum's 1989 FUNraiser Benefit, scheduled for Saturday, May 20, at The Children's Museum, 300 Congress St., Boston. The party honors the museum's 75th birthday.

This year's FUNraiser, "In One Year and Out the Other," will review the past 75 years of development at the Children's Museum and around the world.

The museum will be transformed into a retrospective of the last 75 years and guests will experience a fanciful journey through time. It will be a night of dining, dancing and "remembering" the roaring '20s, swinging '30s and '40s, rocking '50s and '60s and the global '80s. The evening will also unfold some glimpses of the future.

The proceeds will support the Children's Museum's "Fund for the Future," which is used to support research and development for innovative projects, exhibitions and programs.

Recycling, A Growth Industry

By Virginia Cole

At last it's happened! Recycling was officially pronounced a "growth industry" at the October 1988 National Recycling Coalition Conference in St. Paul, Minn. It is going to be on the frontpage of our newspapers, the business sections of our magazines and, maybe, it will even make the women's pages. So, we must learn the lingo. Here is your basic recycling vocabulary:

Benefication General term for the various technologies used to process recyclable materials into marketable commodites. Metal shredding, paper compacting and baling, glass crushing and densification of aluminum cans and other materials are typical benefication processes.

Cullet Industry term for very finely crushed, furnace-ready glass. Glass can be recycled indefinitely for the manufacture of containers.

Densification Any process that compacts a recyclable commodity and makes it denser so that transportation and handling are more cost-effective.

Flint Industry term for clear glass.

Front-end Processing Mechanical separation of mixed solid waste after it has been collected as garbage. Magnets may be used to lift out ferrous material and rotating drums blow off lighter materials. This returns less material to the manufacturing process than source separation.

Glasphalt Road surfacing material consisting of asphalt and crushed glass.

Intermediate Processing Center Facility where recyclables are separated and then processed into the form required by end-user manufacturers, such as cullet, plastic granules or blocks, baled paper and densified aluminum cans. These facilities are also sometimes called MRFs or MURFS.

Muncipal Solid Waste Garbage.

Plastic Alphabet Soup Identification and separation of postconsumer plastics is one of the greatest challenges facing solid waste managers. Here are some examples: HDPE, high density polyethylene, milk bottles, antifreeze containers; LDPE, low density polyethylene, squeeze bottles; PET, polythylene terephthalate, transparant, flexible resin used for carbonated soft drink bottles; PP, polypropylene, heat resistant resin used for such foods as syrup; PVC, polyvinyl chloride, transparent oxygen-impermeable resin used to package edible oils, liquor, etc; PS, polystyrene, the infamous styrofoam; RDF, refuse derived fuel made from light weight garbage particles which can be densified into pellets. Can be mixed with coal in many types of furnaces or can be burned in specially designated boilers.

Resource Recovery A euphemism, held in contempt by many recycling advocates, for burning sometimes separated but generally unseparated garbage to produce energy.

Secondary Materials Materials that have been used before that are used in the manufacturing process as opposed to virgin or raw materials. Forty percent of the tonnage exported from the port of New York is secondary material.

Source Separation The battle cry of recyclers. Separation of recyclable materials from the waste stream before garbage is set out for collection or taken to a landfill.

Now you can understand what the newspapers are talking about, dominate cocktail party conversation, discuss the issues with elected officials and plan investment strategy with your stockbroker.

All this courtesy of the Journal of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, just one more organziation and magazine that is pushing us to recycle.

For a healthy diet, the National Research Council recommends limiting intake to 1,100 to 3,000 milligrams of sodium per day.

AT OUR SCHOOLS

Phillips Academy Headmaster Donald McNemar and his wife, Britta, say goodbye to faculty and student well-wishers. The headmaster is going on sabbatical until August, and he and his family will be traveling around the world.

PA Headmaster Takes Sabbatical

Traveling and studying in Europe, Asia, Australia and the Soviet Union will occupy Donald McNemar and his family's time for the next six months.

McNemar, headmaster at Phillips Academy, is on sabbatical until August. He, his wife, Britta, and daughters, Heather, a ninth-grader at Andover High School, and Galen, a sixth-grader at Pike School, left Andover Jan. 2. Several faculty members and students made a surprise visit to McNemar's home on Main Street to wish them well.

The McNemars will visit relatives in the United States for a few weeks before venturing abroad at the end of the month.

Of the many places they will visit are Phillips Academy exchange partner schools in England, France, Spain, Austria, Germany, Soviet Union, China, Japan, Hong Kong and Australia.

For two months the McNemars will stay in Siberia at the Novosibinsk Physics and Mathematics School, where the couple may teach English and American history.

PA's exchange with this school in 1987 was the first exchange granted between high schools in the United States and the Soviet Union, said Beverly Henderson, the school's public information director.

Due to the program's success, Henderson said, about 30 other high schools in the United States have been given permission to begin similar programs with schools in the Soviet Union.

Nursery School Plans Open House

St. Robert's Country Day School, a semicooperative nursery school in West Andover, will hold an open house and registration day Tuesday, Jan. 17, at 9:30 a.m. The school is sponsored by St. Robert's Bellarmine Church, but is open to all children. In operation for 19 years, the school has enrolled children from many communities, including Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, Tewksbury, Chelmsford, Lowell, Reading, Dracut and Pelham, N.H.

St. Robert's Country Day School has programs for preschoolers ages 3 to 5. Slides of the children doing many activities will be shown at the open house. Members of the parents' board and staff will be available to answer questions. Children may play under staff supervision while parents talk to the school's registrar, Joyce Rawlinson, and director, Helen Keegan.

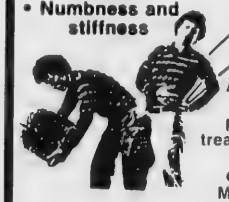

The Office for Children has licensed St. Robert's Country Day School. The staff of 15 offers four programs: the mini nursery for 3-year-olds has a two- or three-day option (Tuesday/Thursday with a third day beginning in February, 1990, or Monday-/Wednesday); regular nursery for 4-year-olds on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 9 to 11:30 a.m.; the enrichment program offers an extended day to 1 p.m. on Wednesday and regular school hours on Monday and Tuesday; and the maxi program for children who are determined by a screening to be 5 years old developmentally.

For further information, contact Joyce Rawlinson, 2 Langley Lane.

Computers Speak English Too

By Kenneth Kwajewski

Editor's note: This is the sixth article in a series of biweekly articles written by the school system's computer education director, who will be describing the second phase of Andover's computer education plan.

There used to be a time in the not-too-distant past when computers in schools were only used by the math department to teach computer programming. In fact, school systems took pride in the number of programming courses offered. BASIC, Pascal, C, Ada, Logo, COBOL and Fortran were the only tongues computers knew. Most computer/mathematics departments didn't even want the computers to speak English.

About 10 years ago, as a programming instructor, I asked my department head to let me use our Digital PDP 11/44 system for word processing with my students. I wanted them to write down in English what steps they would use to solve a problem so they would have a better idea how to write computer code.

"Have you gone mad?" he scoffed. "Computers are only good for computing mathematical problems quickly. Don't you know how many nanoseconds it will take to process English on the computer? Our whole system will be slowed down intolerably. Don't ever ask me to do that again."

Unfortunately, this is a true story, but times have certainly changed.

Today the computer can not only be used for programming, but more commonly it is used as a writing tool for word processing. English departments have paved the way for other subject fields to see the computer as a tool to edit and revise writing. This skill will always be needed in any school of the future.

The Macintosh computer has the capability of displaying on the screen and downloading to the printer the necessary accent marks used in French, Spanish, German and Latin. Andover schools' Apple IIe and IIgs equipment was limited in its capability to duplicate the required accent marks.

As a result, computers at the high school are beginning to speak Spanish

St. Roberts School Turns 19

At 19, St. Robert's Country Day School is about five times the age of its students.

The school celebrated its almost two decades of existence Tuesday. The students wore party hats decorated with stars, sang songs and made special wishes to put in a "wish box." Students and their parents and siblings enjoyed a birthday cake made at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School. The children watched a movie to end a fun-filled day.

Teachers and people special to St. Robert's lit the 19 tapers on the birthday cake. They were Helen Keegan, education director; Gail Dispensa, assistant director and teacher; Dorothy Klinger, mini two and three teacher; Barbara Griggs, Marian Bachinsky and Mary Clark, mini assistants; Susan Zembko, head nursery teacher; Sally Barron, nursery teacher; Pam Galvin, maxi teacher; Maureen Higgins and Donna Beasley, enrichment nursery teachers; Adele Kelly and Pat Lapusata, administrative assistants; Bill Walsh, the school's honorary grandfather; Al Talarico and Frank Seluk, school custodians; Maura Burke, mini enrichment teacher; Alison Galinzia and Maureen Mackin, parents' board co-chairwomen; and the Rev. Paul McManus, school chaplain.

and French through the assistance of foreign language department head Sheila Zappala. She has begun to bring Spanish V classes into the lab so students can practice their language skills by writing educational assignments. Students in level 1 and 2 classes benefit from writing and editing these assignments. They can easily see their mistakes once they are put to paper.

Matching feminine and masculine articles with the proper noun endings is a skill that is quickly reinforced through writing. Students are able to complete an assignment on the computer, save it, have it graded and then have the opportunity to revise their work for an improved grade. Students have quicky adapted to the computer and enjoy their time in the lab.

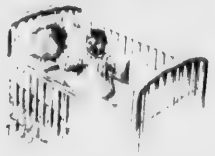

Teacher Gerard Desjardins was one of the first staff members to realize the power of the Macintosh computer. He bought one for himself last year and has helped the computer department see the potential of this machine. He has been able to create his educational materials using the Macintosh computer.

Computer systems were added to each foreign language department at the high and middle schools so that all foreign language teachers could create materials. Foreign language department head Douglas Halsted at Doherty Middle School and Lori Humlak at West Middle School are quickly learning to use MacWrite word processing to develop tests, quizzes and educational reports. All staff members will eventually be trained to use the computer system.

Plans for the future include the possible use of telecommunications to share information with other students across the world. Pilot projects have been set up with participating schools so that stu-

Nancy Sununu Reflects On Life In N.H.

By Lisa Weiner

I had the pleasure of interviewing Nancy Sununu, whose husband, John, just left his New Hampshire governorship to put on a new mantle as White House chief of staff.

Mrs. Sununu had many things to say about her family life, on being the wife of a governor and some important issues regarding herself as well as others. She spoke rather openly about many subjects, but she made it apparent her main focus is her family life.

She was born in South Dartmouth to school teacher parents. She grew up in Brockton and on Cape Cod where her parents had a summer business. She met her husband while he was attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and she was attending Boston University. Before they graduated, they were married, had two children and Mr. Sununu had started what became a very successful engineering business with a friend.

He left the company to get his doctorate at MIT. In 1965, after graduating, Mr. Sununu started working as a consulting engineer in Massachusetts and became a professor at Tufts University where he taught for 15 years. In 1969, Mrs. Sununu said, the family moved to New Hampshire because of tax benefits and because her husband felt it was a perfect place to raise his family. He worked at the same engineering business until he became governor.

Today the Sununu family has grown to eight children, four of whom have graduated from college—one from MIT, one from the University of Vermont and two from Tufts. Their other four children are still in school, one at Stanford, one at MIT and the other two in elementary school.

Mrs. Sununu's number one priority, she says, is her children and making their lives as stable as possible. She feels one important decision she and her husband made was in not moving to the governor's residence and allowing their children to stay in the public schools where they are identified not as the "governor's children" but as the "Sununu kids." This stability has resulted in their children coping with the packed schedules and publicity, she said.

However, Mrs. Sununu said family stability also came from her husband's positive attitude toward his job, which he often expressed to his family. Their family life is affected because of the lack of privacy from the media. However, Mrs. Sununu, as well as her family, see it as "part of the job."

Mrs. Sununu's least favorite part of being the wife of a governor is the lack of time she has to do some of the things she loves to do. For example, from 1975 to 1981 she served on the New Hamsphire school board, and from 1979 to 1980 was a Republican state chairwoman. She has been a member of the New Hampshire Federation of Republican Women for many years.

Mrs. Sununu said she has put off many things she enjoys, like being on the school board, volunteering in classrooms or sewing, another favorite of hers. However, she said the governorship is such a short period of time, so she and her family will have to make the best of it, even if it means giving up some of her free time. She says there are many positives to the job, such as meeting many different kinds of people from all over the country, dining at the White House or meeting the president or vice president. Most importantly, she feels that exposing her children to these unique opportunities is the best part of all. She is especially fond of the other governors and their families whom she says "are the nicest group of people I will ever meet, and everyone gets along whether they are a Democrat or Republican."

Mrs. Sununu also spoke out on some major issues, like drug abuse, which she called an overwhelming problem. She says the big key in breaking down the problem is to strengthen the family unit and return to traditions and values. She says she tries to do whatever she can, attending meetings and supporting the anti-drug cause. One such campaign is the First Lady's. She says Nancy Reagan is a positive role model who has generated a huge awareness concerning the drug problem in the communities and school systems. Mrs. Sununu feels this is an important step towards the light at the end of the tunnel.

Another issue she spoke about was how young people should be more aware of politics. She feels teens who are able to vote, as well as everyone else, should be aware of each of the candidates and what positions they take on certain issues so when they go to the polls they are able to make a responsible selection.

The last issue she spoke about was how she felt about her husband leaving his governorship. She says that she can speak for the family in saying that it is sad to leave, because the governor really enjoyed his job.

But, she said, "My husband is a believer that if you spend time in the public sector to contribute your ideas and make changes, after a while those ideas become stale. And he feels that this is the right time to step down to make way for new ideas."

Weiner is an Andover High junior.

dents and teachers can share newsletters about life and education in different cultures. The Andover school system may work with the foreign language department at the Wellesley public school system to establish a newsletter with students in France and Spain.

There used to be a time when computers spoke only programming languages, but the time has come when English, Spanish and French are the languages of choice. It may slow the computer down a little bit to translate letters rather than numbers, but the extra time has many more benefits for many more students.

AVNS Seeks Fall Students

Andover Village Nursery School, 6 Locke St., is accepting applications for next fall. AVNS is a cooperative nursery school, where students' parents pool their time and talents with two professional teachers to provide a nurturing environment, administrators said.

The nursery school, which is in its 30th year of operation, is the oldest preschool in Andover.

Children who are 3 and a half years old by Sept. 1 may apply for the three-day program. Those who are 4 by Sept. 1 may apply for the four-day program. Some scholarship money is available for those in need.

An open house will be held Jan. 17, 18 and 20 from 9 to 11 a.m. Parents will be able to observe what happens on a typical school day.

For more information, contact the school's membership chairman, Gerry Deyermond, or Andover Village Nursery School.

Dan Lyons of No. Andover did – so can you!

Dan Lyons is a reporter for PC Week, a national trade journal based in Boston covering the financial and investment aspects of the computer industry.

Dan began his college education in Ohio, returned to the Merrimack Valley, and got a mill job. "When I was layed off," he says, "I decided to use my free time to go back to school, try different things and find out what I really wanted to do with my life."

He enrolled in the Liberal Arts program at Northern Essex (he graduated in 1983) and chose a course in Journalism as an elective course. This choice changed his direction and his life.

"My Journalism teacher was a most special person for me," Dan says. He joined the staff of the college newspaper and was busy all the time.

"I had excellent training working on the school paper and as a reporter at the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune, and found the career for me through Northern Essex."

Census

Secretary of State Michael J. Connolly, joined by local election officials throughout the Commonwealth, urges all Massachusetts citizens to respond to the annual street listing census now underway in order to ensure their names remain on their community's voting list.

Connolly explained that state law requires local registrars of voters to conduct the local census every year in January and February to remove from the voting lists names of individuals who no longer reside in the community.

Connolly said theat under state law, registered voters who do not respond may be dropped from the voting lists.

The Statue of Liberty was originally to be set up at the Suez Canal.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

With experience, nursing your baby will become more and more comfortable and you'll be able to nurse anywhere. Some mothers say they can nurse while standing or walking. But your early nursing will be more successful if you establish a relaxed, regular routine. A quiet room is best. Pick a chair with arms, bolster your elbows with pillows, and prop your feet up. Use the time exclusively to cuddle and talk to the baby, not watch television or read. At night, take the baby into bed with you, so you can rest while nursing. Nursing is a warm human experience between mother and baby. Enjoy it while it lasts!

Are you looking for baby furniture? Come to TINY TOTLAND, where we stock furniture, accessories, wall decorations, lamps toys, mattresses, carriages and much more. We deliver anywhere. Leslie Orlando of Methuen did – so can you!

Leslie Orlando always thought she would like a career in law, but wanted some law-related study and work before making such a major time commitment. She researched paralegal study programs and, in 1983, enrolled at NECC.

"I liked Northern Essex," Leslie says. "It was so convenient. Most of my professors were great – not only good teachers, but experienced professionals as well."

Leslie found a job in real estate law after graduating from NECC in 1985. She continued her education at Suffolk University and is currently enrolled in Suffolk's Law School.

"Northern Essex provided the kind of flexibility I needed – in terms of cost, location, convenience and programming – to test my plans for the future," Leslie says. "It is a college that worked out extremely well for me."

Stop by our Middleton branch, and you could win this holiday table setting.

Come to our Middleton branch anytime from now until January 13, and you could win a catered holiday dinner. It's all part of our "every day's a holiday" celebration for our Middleton neighbors. This month, we're giving away a catered holiday meal for up to six people. To enter, all you need to do is come in and fill out one entry blank each time you visit. Enter as often as you like.

Of course, while you're here, you can take care of all your banking needs. We provide checking, savings, auto and mortgage loans, IRA's and CD's: we're a full-service bank dedicated to serving our customers. At Wakefield Savings Bank we're also working to make banking more enjoyable, by providing that service with well-trained people who treat you like a friend instead of a number on an account.

So stop by the Middleton office of Wakefield Savings Bank anytime before January 13. You might win a holiday from the kitchen.

enable him to improve service in areas previously out of his control.

Currently, all mail is sorted in Lawrence because the Andover office lacks space. When a problem develops, such as if Raytheon Corp. mail was accidently routed to Gillette, as with any customer, Mendoza has to fill out a complaint form. Now, all sorting will be done in Andover where "I can go right to the problem and correct it on the spot," he said.

Residents will also be able to get their mail sooner. With mail being sent directly to Andover rather than detouring through Lawrence, "we cut out the double-handling and can start delivery earlier," said Mendoza.

Waiting lists for post office boxes will be a thing of the past with the number of boxes increasing from about 400 to 2,000, said Mendoza.

The old building served the community for 52 years, a figure Mendoza doesn't expect the new post office to match. "With the way West Andover is growing, who knows when we will need to move again?"

Volunteers

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is seeking volunteers to assist with their many programs and services throughout the state.

Opportunities include teaching preschoolers about pet care; providing the elderly with the companionship of your pet dog through the pet visitation program; conducting public tours of the MSPCA's Angell Memorial Animal Hospital and Boston Animal Shelter; assisting a department with office duties; monitoring donation canisters at local businesses. Funds collected benefit the thousands of animals in the society's shelters.

Traning sessions will be held the first week in February. Call or write MCSPA/Humane Education, 350 South Huntington Avenue, Boston 02130, for an application.

Deadline

All individuals who live, work or belong to an art association in Essex County are reminded that the deadline for entries in the 1989 Marblehead Festival of Arts logo contest is Saturday, January 28, at 5 p.m. All entries must be submitted at Abbot Public Library, 235 Pleasant St., Marblehead, MA 01945 by that time.

It is through the logo competition that the Festival selects a new symbol each year to identify its summer exhibits and events. The winning entry is chosen by a panel of judges early in Feburary and it will adorn T-shirts, posters, stationery, and display materials. The winner of the competition will receive a $125.00 prize.

Judges for this year's contest are John D'Entrment of Malden, a graphic designer, and Gene Arnould of Marblehead, the owner of the Arnould Gallery in Marblehead.

Contest information and rules are available at libraries throughout Essex County. Designs, which should symbolize the town of Marblehead,

ENTERTAINMENT

Organist In Performance

Organist Franklin G. Coleman will perform at Phillips Academy Sunday, Jan. 15, at 3 p.m. in Cochran Chapel on the academy campus.

Coleman is director of choral music at Moorestown Friends School in New Jersey and organist/choir director of the Mount Airy Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia, Pa.

He attended Millikin University in Decatur, Ill., majoring in sacred music and music education. He transferred to Boston University, where he studied with Max Miller and received bachelor and master of music degrees in organ and choral music. He earned the licentiate and fellow's diplomas from Trinity College of Music in London, England. Among his tutors was Stephen Cleobury, now the director of King's College Choir. Coleman also attended the Cambridge University Choral Studies Institute and the Haarlem (the Netherlands) International Organ Academy.

He served as organist/choirmaster and chairman of music at the Kent School in Kent, Conn., and at Christ Church Cranbrook Episcopal in Bloomfield Hills, Mich. He was also chairman of music at St. George's School, Newport, R.I., for eight years.

His program will include Toccata Duodecima by Georg Muffat, Joseph est bien Marie by Claude Balbastre, Saviour of the Nations, Come, BWV 659 by J.S. Bach, Prelude and Fugue in a minor, BuxWV 153 by Diderik Buxtehude, Theme and Variations by Hendrik Andriessen, Communion No. 2 in G Major, Op. 19, No. 4 by Felix-Alexandre Guilmant, Organ Suite No. 1 by Ulysses Kay, Adagio in E Major by Frank Bridge and Paean by Herbert Howells.

The Cochran Chapel organ, built in 1981 by the Andover Organ Co., is a mechanical action (tracker) instrument of two manuals and pedals, 26 stops and 37 ranks.

The public is invited, and there is no charge for admission.

The first bowling tournament for women was held in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1917.

Folk Artists Visit Shop

In spite of single digit temperatures, nearly 75 people bundled up recently and trundled over to Garrison Knoll, Main Street, West Newbury, to nibble cheese, sip punch and meet folk artists Errol and Annie Cahoon.

The Cahoons were guests of Floreen and Roger Williams, owners of Garrison Knoll, a small museum-of-a-shop filled with folk art and handcrafted country furniture.

In spite of having driven 15 hours from their native North Carolina, the Cahoons chatted amiably with guests, many of whom collect "Cahoons," personalized carvings of sheep, horses, penquins, giraffes, Uncle Sams, Santa Clauses, even a spectacular Noah's Ark.

Errol does much of the talking, but always begins with giving credit to his wife for being a "full partner" in the work.

"It's a team," he drawled. "Not just one artist.

Errol does the carving, which he said his grandfather taught him, and Annie paints the pieces, although modestly signing his name to them.

It's hard not to get a little envious of the joy they find in their work. "We're blessed," he said. "We are able to make our living doing only what we want to do. We're satisfied with our life."

While their work is in exclusive shops from New York to California, the Cahoons make the the annual trek to West Newbury as much out of friendship as to restore themselves as artists.

Many of the Cahoon's designs have come from ideas which have been worked out with the Williams. Roger is a folk artist of sorts himself, although none of his work shows up in his shop. The Williams and Errol often end up in the Williams' workshop, working out new ideas.

"They (the Williams) give us the opportunity to let our creative juices flow," Errol said. "And we're proud of what we do. We like to show off.

The Cahoon's work can be seen yearround at the West Newbury shop.

Paintings

The paintings of Reading artist Alan Eddy will be on display each weekday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Jan. 20 at the American Mutual Insurance Companies in Wakefield.

The public is welcome.

Marblehead Artist To Be Guest

Portrait artist Lucy Clark Winant of Marblehead will be hosted by the Andovers Artists Guild Inc. at North Parish Church in North Andover on Sunday, Jan. 15, at 2 p.m.

Winant's prize-winning bold watercolor portraits and landscapes have been exhibited widely throughout New England.

The artist will do a portrait of a guild member. She prefers to approach her subject with a fresh eye and, therefore, will not bring her own model. She talks out her thoughts, problems and solutions as she proceeds and is very particular about the finished work, choosing not to sell if she doesn't capture a special inner quality.

Winant is a member of the New England Watercolor Society, the Copley Society and the Marblehead Arts Association. She is a member of the Salem State College faculty and teaches workshops and privately.

The public is invited to the demonstration. There is a guest fee.

Introducing Courtyard by Marriott in Boston/Andover

A Special Little Hotel at a Very Comfortable Price.℠

Now you can enjoy "a special little hotel" of no more than 150 rooms, set in a friendly residential environment—at rates far more attractive than those of big, bustling hotels. Courtyard's smaller, more intimate scale allows you to enjoy extra comforts and friendly service no typical motor inn can match—specifically tailored to the needs of individual travelers like you, and moderately priced for extraordinary value.

Feeling "at home" away from home is the whole idea behind Courtyard by Marriott

Quality—with a difference

For instance, you'll be pleasantly surprised by the amount of space we give you in your beautifully appointed room or suite. You'll be able to stretch out on a king-size bed ... spread your work out on an oversized work desk ... and relax in a distinctly separate seating area.

Courtyard's restaurant is a cozy, comfortable setting for food and drink

And when you leave your room, you'll enjoy other thoughtful touches ... such as a comfortable lobby and lounge that's more like an oversized living room. A congenial full-service restaurant. A swimming pool, whirlpool and exercise room for guest relaxation. A security system that lets you rest assured. Plus a beautifully landscaped courtyard, perfect for a refreshing outdoor stroll day or night.

DCS Program Booklets Mailed

The Department of Community Services winter/spring program booklet was mailed to Andover homes last week. New residents who did not receive one may pick one up at the DCS office in the Town Offices Building on Bartlet Street.

The booklet describes the variety of programs offered. Registration will be held Wednesday, Jan. 18, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Doherty Memorial Auditorium. Enter through the auditorium doors across from Central Park only. Registration will continue each day at the DCS office between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. until classes begin. All classes begin the week of Monday, Jan. 30, unless otherwise stated. Among the new programs scheduled are:

Breathe Free This stop-smoking plan is held Monday through Thursday for two weeks from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the high school. Drs. Cameron Msumba and Joel Seidman will emphasize motivation and lifestyle modification strategies.

Tuesdays

Adding On, a four-week course taught by David Brown from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at Andover High School, is an everything-you-always-wanted-to-know-about–building-but-were-afraid-to-ask course. Space planning concepts, zoning inspections, dealing with contractors, plan reading and more is offered.

Joseph Peters will stir the imagination in Fun with Numbers on March 7 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the high school. The workshop is an informal discussion but very large and very small numbers people never hear about. Why does an object put into space continue to orbit earth? Why doesn't it crash to earth or continue into space? Students should bring questions pertaining to areas where numbers are a mystery to them. Peters is a certified math and physics teacher.

Learn more about natural fibers, both animal and plant, with Florence Feldman-Wood in her five-week course Natural Fibers - A Survey at Doherty Middle School from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Study wool, mohair, alpaca, cashmere, cotton, linen, ramie, silk and blends of natural and synthetic fibers.

Chain Link Carving is a four-week course taught by Deborah Nowell at the high school from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Carve chain links from a solid piece of wood.

Wednesdays

Job Hunt Techniques, held Feb. 1 only, is a practical workshop for people who are job-hunting, planning a career change or preparing for the future. Bill Gruener will offer organizational techniques to monitor and control the process and achieve the desired result and will focus on finding and building potential companies and contacts. Participants should be familiar with the book What Color is Your Parachute.

Gruener is also offering a workshop on Interviewing Techniques on Feb. 8 only, focusing on the interview process, addressing the common fears of interviewing and easing the discomfort. Mock and taped interviews may be done. Both workshops will be held at the high school from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Thursdays

Pat Wood will present a five-week course entitled Safari to Health beginning March 2 at the high school. Discover new ways to tame type-A behavior, escape from the stress swamp and survive in the junk food jungle. Participants receive individual endurance kits.

Kathleen Wilson is again offering a series of advanced decorative painting workshops. The schedule includes kitchen witch, Feb. 2 for three weeks; Mrs. Peter-Rrabbit, March 2 for three weeks; Village Scene Arch, March 30 for two weeks; Apple Tree Design Heart Clock, April 27 for two weeks; Spring Design T-shirt, May 18.

Starting a Herb Garden with Walter Perkins is a two-time workshop held May 4 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the high school and concluding Saturday, May 6, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Green Tree Farm in Merrimac. Discover the world of herbs, plan a garden and explore hands-on activities at the farm. Car pools can be arranged in class for Saturday session.

New craft workshops include Heart-shaped Grapevine Basket, Feb. 7; Prepare for the Next Recession, March 16; Roman Stripe Quilt, March 25; Spring Floral Arrangement, April 26; Macrame Spring Hat, April 26.

Children's programs include an art class for 6- to 8-year olds on Mondays at Bancroft Elementary School. Susan Delaney will help children explore drawing and painting. An acting workshop for ages 14-17 at Andover High School on Tuesdays from 2:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. will

Booths Available For Annual Academy Arts, Crafts Exhibit

Artisans, master craftpersons and caterers who want to exhibit or sell their goods at the sixth annual Handsprings arts and crafts exhibit and sale on the campus of Phillips Academy Saturday and Sunday, April 22 and 23, may now apply for a booth. The application deadline is Feb. 1.

This arts and crafts show is a juried event that features 140 exhibitors from all over New England. Only original handcrafted artwork can be displayed and no dealers can exhibit. Applications are screened by a jury based on photographs or slides submitted. Handsprings has been so successful over the past five years that the 1989 show has been increased to a two-day event.

Handsprings '89 is a benefit event sponsored by the Ladies' Benevolent Society of Phillips Academy, one of the oldest women's groups in the country. This year's proceeds will go to the student book scholarship fund of the Merrimack Valley Andover Abbot Association and to Fidelity House Inc., a non-profit corporation that provides residential and community support services to mentally retarded people and their families in the Greater Lawrence area.

As in previous years, the show will be held in PA's Case Memorial Cage and will feature quality crafts and fine arts, a gourmet cafe, bake table of homemade goods, door prizes, raffles and musical entertainment.

Caterers who specialize in gourmet finger foods and soups are invited to apply for booth space on either or both days. Food is treated as a craft and will be juried by a separate committee.

Applications can be obtained by sending a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Handsprings, Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. 01810.

Etchings

The Museum of Fine Arts in Boston will present "Italian Etchers of the Renaissance and Baroque," a loan exhibit that surveys the role of etching in Italy from about 1520 to 1700, beginning Jan. 24 and continuing through April 2.

Concert Is Fundraiser

The Merrimack Valley YMCA is sponsoring benefit tickets to the Roberta Peters concert, "A Tribute to Irving Berlin," at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts in Andover on Sunday, Jan. 22, at 2 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the Andover Endowment for the Arts. A wine-and-cheese reception for YMCA benefit participants will follow at Thompson's Restaurant in North Andover.

Proceeds will provide scholarship funds to enable area people to participate in the programs offered by the Merrimack Valley YMCA through its three branches, the Andover/North Andover YMCA, Lawrence YMCA and Y camps.

Cynthia L. Wright of Andover chairs the special fundraising committee whose members are Lorene Comeau, Susan Donahue, Allen Maxwell and Raymond Murgia, all of Andover, Brenda Marcous of Methuen and Michel Peltz of Bradford.

Chorale In Rehearsal

The Greater Merrimack Valley Chorale will hold an open rehearsal Wednesday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at Doherty Middle School.

The chorale is looking especially for men's voices.

The Merrimack Valley Chorale's spring performances will be Mozart's Requiem. David Tierney will conduct, and the Waltham Philharmonic Orchestra will accompany, the group.

THE SOCIAL SIDE

Eaton-Gort

Lynne Hillary Gort of Somerset, N.J., and Gilman Frost Eaton of Somerset and Kennebunkport, Maine, were married. The ceremony was performed by the Hon. Joel Rosen on Nov. 19, 1988, at the Victoria Manor in Edison, N.J.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gort of Iselin, N.J.; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Eaton, III of Andover and Kennebunkport.

Monica Gort of Iselin was maid of honor for her sister. Gregory Nelb Eaton of Sandown, N.H., was his brother's best man. The ushers were James H. Eaton, IV of Portland, Maine, brother of the groom; Robert S. Benson of Kennebunkport; and Mitchell Jacubowsky of New Jersey.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Victoria Manor.

The bride graduated from Trenton State College School of Nursing in Trenton, N.J. and works at Ortho Pharmaceutical Corp. in Raritan, N.J.

The groom is a graduate of Tabor Academy in Marion and Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine. He works at Cable Tek in Sewaren, N.J.

The couple will live in Somerset, N.J.

Awley-Anderson

Tracy E. Anderson and Douglas A. Awley were married Sept. 24, 1988, at First Congregational Church in Norwood by the Rev. Leonard Warner of Norwood and the Rev. William Chadwick of Wolfeboro.

The bride is the daughter of Robert Anderson and June Stevens of Norwood; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Awley of Andover.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Karen DeSantis of Norwood as maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Sheila Anderson of Easton, Lynne Anderson of Norwood, Kathleen Sobol of Brockton and Yesim Alsan of Norwood.

Scott F. Awley of Long Island, N.Y., was his brother's best man. Jack Anderson of Easton, Keith Anderson of Norwood, Richard Davies of Derry, N.H., and Michael Dion and Paul Syiek of Atlanta, Ga., were ushers.

After a reception at Lantana in Randolph, the couple took a wedding trip to California.

The bride graduated from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. She works at Cushman and Wakefield of Mass. Inc.

The groom, a Merrimack College graduate, works at ADP in Waltham.

The couple lives in Natick.

Camera Club Plans Meetings

The Lawrence Camera Club will meet tonight at 7:30 downstairs in the Bank of New England-Bay State Building, 84 Main St., next to Brigham's.

Members will present mini slide shows. General, nature, tri-color, puddle and special slides are due for the club's monthly competition.

The Camera Club will meet again Thursday, Jan. 19, same time, same place.

General, mini and color prints will be entered in the club's montly competition. Two prints are allowed.

Guests are welcome to both meetings.

Getting Married? Tell The TOWNSMAN

Wedding and engagement announcement forms may be picked up at The TOWNSMAN offices, 89 N. Main St.

They must be typed or printed clearly and accompanied by a telephone number in case the editors have questions. Pictures, preferably black and white, are welcomed. They can be picked up after they are published.

There isn't any cost for announcing either an engagement or wedding in the paper. The TOWNSMAN prints these announcements when space is available. Please return the forms promptly.

Fashion Show To Benefit PA Dakar Project

A fashion show, featuring clothes from several local stores, will be held at George Washington Hall on the Phillips Academy campus Sunday, Jan. 15, at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the door. Money from the show, "Fashion for a Cause," will be donated to the PA Dakar project, which is helping restore the only elementary school building on Goree Island in West Africa.

The five-year project began three years ago. To date, over 100 student and adult volunteers from PA have traveled to West Africa to help the natives preserve the school.

The following stores located in Andover will be represented in the fashion show: Vena Coca Collection, Elehphant Trunk, Diamonds, Benetton, Players in Style and Sisters Jewelry Store. Hairstyles will be provided by the In Fringe hair salon.

Le Chateau of Burlington, Copley and Nashua; His Place and La Sweatrie, both in Burlington; Mr. Tux in Lawrence; and DJ's in Methuen will also be featured in Sunday's show.

Hadassah Sponsors Dance Feb. 4

Hadassah will sponsor a dance at Temple Emanuel in Andover on Saturday, Feb. 4, at 8 p.m. Music will be provided by the Zaitchik Brothers and a buffet dinner will be served. Proceeds benefit Hadassah Medical Organization. Call Bette Jaffee for reservations by Jan. 21.

Hadassah, the world's largest women's Zionist organization, boast more than 385,000 members. The organization supports Hadassah hospitals in Israel, Youth Aliyah, education and land preservation.

RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY

Church Honors King's Memory

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover will commemorate the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. with a worship service that celebrates black art and artists. Sandra Porter Englehart, an accomplished pianist, will play works of Bach and Chopin. The service will also include the poetry of Nikki Giovanni and Langston Hughes and an African folk tale.

The Rev. Rosemarie Smurzynski will talk about Beloved, a novel by Toni Morrison about black slaves freed after the Civil War. The novel was recently awarded the Melcher Book Award by the Unitarian Universalist Association. The award is given to "writers published in America...judged to be the most significant contribution to religious liberalism."

The worship service was planned by Carl and Marjorie Byers. Carl, a member of the church, is a director on the church board.

Child care is provided for the worship service. The church is located at 6 Locke St.

United Methodist Women Install New Officers

The Ballard Vale United Church will install officers of the local unit of the United Methodist Women Sunday during morning worship.

The new officers are Rosemary Hempstead, president; Peggy McLeod, vice president; Diane Ely, secretary; Hannah Darling, treasurer; Lorna McIntyre, Christian personhood; Virginia Maruzzi, program resources; Linda Forbes, membership; Joyce Robinson, nominations.

"Women of the World" will be the program topic led by Rosemary Hempstead when Ballard Vale United Church's United Methodist Women meets in Room 7 at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 23. All women of the church are urged to attend.

Program booklets outlining the 1988-'89 year are available through Hannah Darling.

The purpose of UMW is to organize women and children for mission and to aid members' personal growth spiritually, corporately and intellectually, group members said.

Christian Women's Club To Meet

The Merrimack Valley Christian Women's Club will hold a brunch Tuesday, Jan. 17, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Salem Inn, Salem, N.H.

A presentation will be given by Nancy Griffin of Party Time, with special music offered by Alma Towne. Joan Ford will be the speaker.

Child care will be provided at the Methodist Church, 8 Pleasant St., Salem, N.H.

Lawrence Church Schedules Bean Supper

The United Presbyterian Church of Lawrence is sponsoring a bean supper, Saturday, Jan. 21, at the church, 96 E. Haverhill St, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Esther B. Farrington

Esther B. (Henderson) Farrington, 89, of Lawrence died Jan. 4, 1989, at her home. Mrs. Farrington was born in Andover, and attended Andover elementary schools. She graduated from Lowell Trade School in 1917.

She was the widow of Lawrence Fire Department Capt. John E. Farrington, Sr., and members of her family include sons, John E. Farrington, Jr. of Lawrence and Charles A. Farrington of Andover; a daughter, Marguerette Trull of Tewksbury; a brother, J. Arthur Henderson of Milford, N.H.; a sister, H. Marion Henderson of Needham; 11 grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral sevices were held Saturday at Hart Funeral Home in Lawrence. Burial was in West Parish Cemetery in Andover.

Viola DeGregorio

Viola Marie (Tine) DeGregorio, 74, of Methuen died Jan. 4, 1989, at Holy Family Hospital.

Mrs. DeGregorio worked in the winding department of Wood Mill and later at Raytheon Co. for 15 years before her retirement in 1979.

She was born in Parma, Italy, and came to Lawrence at the age of 7. She attended Holy Rosary School and Lawrence schools. Mrs. DeGregorio attended Holy Rosary Church.

She was the widow of Emil DeGregorio, and members of her family include a son and daughter-in-law, Thomas and Linda DeGregorio of Methuen; brothers, John D. Tine of North Andover and Albert S., Rosario J. and Michael Tine, all of Methuen; sisters, Matilda White of Salem, N.H., and Marie Hanson of Lawrence; three grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass was held Saturday at Holy Rosary Church. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery in Methuen.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Holy Rosary Church Building Fund, 35 Essex St., Lawrence, Mass.

Dr. Andrew Farquhar

Dr. Andrew J. Farquhar of New Smyrna Beach, Fla., the first oral surgeon in Lawrence, died unexpectedly Jan. 2, 1989, at Fish Memorial Hospital. He was 79.

Dr. Farquhar was on the staff of Lawrence General Hospital and Bon Secours Hospital and Clover Hill Hospital in Methuen before his retirement.

Dr. Santo Cataudella, his partner for eight years, said Dr. Farquhar loved his work because "he just loves people, especially his patients."

Born in Lawrence, Dr. Farquhar lived in Andover before moving to New Smyrna Beach nine years ago. He was a graduate of Tufts University in Medford, where he studied music and concentrated on the 'cello. He earned his graduate degree in dentistry from Tufts Dental School.

A cellist with the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra for 17 years, Dr. Farquhar used his music to relax and have fun.

He was an Air Force veteran of World War II.

Dr. Farquhar taught oral surgery for many years at Tufts Dental School. He was a member of the Massachusetts Dental Association, the Massachusetts Society of Oral Surgeons, the Merrimack Valley Dental Association and the Fairgreen Country Club.

Members of his family include his wife, Lois Farquhar; a son, Robert B. Farquhar of Bedford, N.H.; a daughter, Carol Hosking of New Smyrna Beach; a sister, Harriet Sunderland of Andover; and three grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.

Police stopped about 100 drivers who went through the new stop signs at Bartlet and Chestnut streets last weekend. The new signs went up Jan. 5 in an effort to bring down the number of accidents at the corner.

Andover Drivers Make Slow Adjustment To New Stop Signs

Andover drivers are going to have to get used to the new four-way stop signs near Town Hall.

Lt. Phillip Froburg says police stopped about 100 violators last weekend at Bartlet and Chestnut streets. Most of them were issued verbal or written warnings. "Unless it's a very serious type thing, we're just trying to make people aware (of the new signs)," Froburg said.

The first few days after the new signs were set up Jan. 5 at 1 p.m. were "horrendous," Froburg said.

The town put up "stop sign ahead" and "dangerous intersection" signs on Chestnut to give drivers advance warning. Bartlet Street has had stop signs for a long time; the stop signs on Chestnut were added in an effort to prevent accidents. Police Chief James Johnson said there were 22 accidents at the corner within a 10-month period last year.

In addition to the new stop signs, five parking spaces were eliminated to make it easier for drivers to see ahead.

Froburg says police patrol the corner periodically but not as much as they did last week. But some drivers are still going through the signs. "People say, 'I've been driving this way for 40 years, and I just didn't see them.' "

Meeting Agenda Will Be Shorter, Less Testy

By Frank Messina

It will be a short, relatively non-controversial agenda facing town meeting voters this spring as the Jan. 9 deadline for submission of warrant articles passed Monday.

Only 81 articles are currently in the hands of Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, who anticipates dropping up to five Town Hall-generated submissions. About 38 others are of the rubberstamp variety, such as street acceptances, several of which also never make it to town meeting.

Simple subtraction promises a series of early evenings for townspeople or possibly one less session than last year's three-day event. The selectmen are expected to pick the early April dates for this year's town meeting within the month.

Mahony speculated that the lack of controversy might affect attendance. Other than approval of the budget, "I don't think there is a special (warrant article)," he said. "This might indeed be a meeting where it's hard to get people to come."

On the heels of a 1988 budget that jumped about 14 percent, Mahony anticipates asking voters to OK an increase of some 4 to 5 percent.

About $4 million in town improvements such as water mains, sidewalks, sewers and roadways will also be before voters.

Other big-ticket items include a request for $500,000 to build a proposed Public Safety Center; $280,000 to buy a new aerial water tower pumper for the fire department; and $500,000 to implement a school master plan.

Very few "perennial" warrant articles that seem to be on the warrant every town meeting will be seen in April. One such article back from last year is an attempt to win approval of a $3,000 appropriation for recording and storing a tape record of Board of Selectmen's meetings.

Town Readies For Election

By Frank Messina

Although nobody has yet turned in nomination papers, the race for several key elected positions is shaping up to be almost as competitive as last year's heavily-contested town elections.

With a month remaining before the Feb. 13 filing deadline, several citizens have taken out papers and declared their intention to run for office in the March 27 elections.

At least 97 signatures are needed to qualify for the ballot, said Town Clerk Elden R. Salter. A potential candidate can pick up filing papers at the clerk's office anytime before the filing deadline.

Four candidates are expected to compete for two chairs on the Board of Selectmen. Two are incumbents Gerald Silverman and Charles Wesson. Silverman has served the board for eight years, Wesson for five.

Although they are competing in a town where incumbents are consistently re-elected, the two challengers come with their own local credentials.

George Danneman, who missed winning a seat on the Board of Selectmen by 43 votes last year, is a past member of the Andover Housing Partnership Committee. Although Danneman was ousted from the group by Town Manager Kenneth Mahony for allegedly holding conflicting philosophies on affordable housing, the same anti-forced development viewpoint has made him popular with a bloc of voters.

An old rivalry between incumbent Town Moderator James Doherty and John Doyle will continue if both file their papers.

Jack Dziadul, who is a first-time candidate, is the perceived leader of a movement that last year overwhelmingly defeated an effort to build a Lawrence/Andover collaborative school.

An old rivalry between incumbent Town Moderator James Doherty and John Doyle will continue if both file their papers. A town political watchdog, Doyle has been at odds with Doherty for several years over how town meeting is run. Last year, for the first time, Doyle decided to win the job of moderator from Doherty but was defeated handily.

With two seats open on the School Committee, only two citizens have taken out nomination papers so far. Andres Salazar, who has headed several school work committees, and Christopher Outwin, a member of the school task force on building, are the only declared candidates.

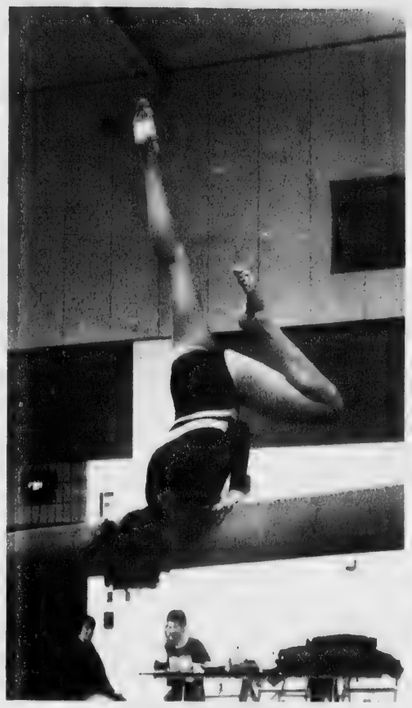

A single candidate, incumbent Eileen Connolly, has taken out papers for the one seat available on the Andover Housing Authority.

Alyssa Farris takes to the air during the vaulting competition.

With total concentration, Mia Kearins makes her approach to the vault.

Tania Pierce showed good form on the balance beam during the gymnastics meet held at the Lowell Field House last Thursday night. Pierce earned a high total score of 30.7 in Andover's meet against Methuen.

Nicole Belle Isle helped her team win last Thursday's meet with a strong effort on the balance beam.

AHS Girl's Gymnastics Best Lowell, Methuen

Andover High School's girls' varsity gymnastics team won its first two meets of the season.

Under first-year Coach Nancy Winitzer, the gymnasts beat Lowell Jan. 5 with an overall score of 116.6 to 93.

In a home meet against Methuen Jan. 3, the team earned 119.5 points over Methuen's 114.2.

Here are the first three Andover gymnasts who placed in each event during the Methuen meet.

Bars: Nicole Belle Isle 7.9; Mia Kearins, 7.7; Michelle Black, 7.6

Balance beam: Tania Pierce, 7.2; Black and BelleIsle, 7.1

Vaulting: Black, 8.2; Pierce, 8.0; Kearins, 7.9

Floor: Pierce, 8.0; Black, 7.5; Kearins, 7.2

Pierce and Black earned high total scores of 30.7 and 30.4, respectively.

As her teammates look on, Samantha Genier does her floor routine.

Tania Pierce got the meet off to a good start on the uneven bars as the Andover girls rallied to beat Lowell. The win was their second in a row.

Alyssa Farris performs her balance beam routine.

OPINION

Recycling Beneficial

A few weeks ago, selectmen put off a decision on whether or not to enforce the rule which dictates residents can only place six large trash bags out for collection.

The decision was requested by the town's volunteer recycling committee which oversees the pickup of paper and the disposal of glass and plastic in a container at the town parking lot once a month.

The recyling group had requested enforcement of the trash bag limit in order to get residents into the recycling effort as a means to not only preserve the environment, but to reduce municipal costs for disposal of trash.

Selectmen, however, failed to take any action, putting off a decision until sometime in the future. The theory was probably based on the fact that they hadn't thought of the beneficial consequences themselves, so why allow others credit.

But, the town remains the loser in this situation.

Recycling of paper, glass and plastic results in revenue for the town. Not only is such service revenue producing, but saves town expenses by keeping trash from the incinerator plant in North Andover where tipping fees are regulated by weight.

There was a fear expressed by some officials at the meeting that residents may leave items on the street if not picked up on a scheduled day.

Somehow or other, people get used to a system, even if it takes a little time, and it is to be assumed that like such things as all-night parking bans, new stop signs and other ordinances, become second nature after a while.

The recycling committee has some dedicated members who give their time to insure the program works well.

Even their suggestion that efforts be made to pick up Christmas trees separately apparently fell on deaf ears, as the seasonal ornaments adorn sidewalks along with the regular trash pickup.

Many nearby communities pick up the discarded trees with a chipping machine, saving the material for springtime use.

Frankly, a community so intent on setting fees for a myriad of municipal services might do well to listen to a volunteer committee which has saved the community thousands of dollars over the years and respond to their requests.

It is a service being offered by the town which obviously could be more financially beneficial if administrators would get into the modern mode of recycling.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

During the holiday season one tends to drive a bit along the highways and byways, visiting, shopping, etc.

This year, as a manner of passing the time during this annual exercise, took the time to observe the various signs which advise, caution, warn, admonish or whatever.

Observing some brings about some questions, such as the ones that appear at ramp entrances to major highways, such as Routes 495 and 93, which dictate 'YIELD.'

Well, if you were about to enter a so-called super-highway and a simple glance to the left revealed a semi-trailer bearing down, don't think such an advisory is necessary. Forget the semi, what about the long line of traffic barrelling down the hot-top at beyond the 55-mph limit? It doesn't seem necessary to issue the precaution that entering the highway at less than reasonable consideration is absolutely necessary.

Then there's the one that appears at various intersections that have stop lights that are regulated to allow traffic to make a left turn in front of oncoming traffic.

'Wait For Delayed Green,' the sign proclaims.

With the light in the opposite direction registering red, which means stay where you are, does this mean we should be awaiting the arrival of the Celtics? Or maybe the greening of spring will be a little late this year?

You've also got 'Bad Curve' as an advisory in some places. Frankly, can't remember seeing a decent road curve. There are some curves which are to be adored but not on the roadways of America or anywhere else.

And how about 'Bridges Freeze Before Pavement'? Should we consider blanketing or thermalizing these iron-clad spans to make them equal to the passageways that lead to them?

It's also handy when you're perched in a Porsche at the top of a hill that the yellow, metal reminder tells you 'Steep Decline Ahead,' sometimes advising further to use a lower gear. If you can't see the treachery at that point, you're ready for the trials at the Indy 500.

It's also nice to be driving along at a reasonable speed and suddenly be informed that 'Right Lane Ends 500 Feet.' Gives a secure feeling as you look to the rear amd see the traffic bearing down and figuring that your final driving experience was in the right lane. Not the proper lane, just the right lane.

But, of all the signs throughout the country, there is the plethora of beauties on South Main Street in Andover, with the crooked arrows and home plate at the top which advise us all to keep right.

Keeping right is a proper admonition. But the crooked arrows may be an indication of how we picked up this splendid acreage from the Indians for six pounds and a coat over 300 years ago. The deed allowed the original 'Gang That Couldn't Shoot Straight' to continue to fish.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Dorothy M. Winn

Carol Trickett and Mary Sormanti, licensed social workers with the Elinor M. Ristuccia Foundation, will discuss "Taking care of someone you love" Wednesday, Jan. 18, at 12:45 p.m. at the senior center. This workshop will address the challenges and problems faced by caregivers and offer an opportunity for relaxed discussion.

Registration for the winter program at the senior center begins Wednesday, Jan. 18, at 10 a.m. The complete winter program is listed in the Department of Community Services booklet, which was mailed to all Andover residents last week. Courses include jazzercise, line dancing, oil painting, basic drawing, needleart, easy exercise and two new courses, ballroom dancing and genealogy and family history. Most courses begin the week of Jan. 30. Sign up early, since space is limited. Classes which do not meet minimum enrollments by Jan. 27 may be canceled.

Residents seeking the senior citizens' price for classes are reminded to bring proof of age and residency to registration. Without this information, you will be charged the higher price.

Don't delay in returning your town census. Failure to return the form could result in your name being dropped from the voting list. Registration for commodity foods and other programs for seniors are based on the town census. Census forms may be returned at the senior center, town hall and local banks.

Classes, lunches, adult day care and other senior center activities are canceled when the schools are closed due to inclement wether. Whenever in doubt about weather conditions and senior center activities, call the senior center at 470-3830. The Council on Aging office remains open in bad weather to answer questions and assist with lunch registrations and other services.

Volunteers are needed to assist with many Council on Aging activities. Positions are available for front desk receptionist, walking club coordinator, plant doctor and other jobs at the senior center. Contact Olivia Scileppi, volunteer coordinator, at 470-3800, ext. 291.

The Andover Senior Center and all town offices will be closed Monday, Jan. 16, in observance of Martin Luther King Day. There will be no lunches, Weebus or Shuttlebus service. Senior center participants are reminded to make their Tuesday lunch and Weebus reservations by 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 13.

Icemen Extend Streak To Three

By Rick Harrison

Co-Capt. Matt Pothier set up pivotal goals by junior Randy Moreau and senior Doug Bleszinski, as the Andover High hockey team stretched its win streak through three games with victories over Lowell and Lawrence High last week.

Moreau blunted a serious comeback bid by Lowell with a goal 39 seconds into the final period, sparking the Golden Warriors to a 6-4 triumph at the Janas Rink that snapped a four-game LHS victory streak.

Bleszinski's fourth goal in six games snapped a 2-2 deadlock with just 3:43 to play, lifting AHS to a 3-2 decision over winless-but-stubbornLawrence at the Methuen High fieldhouse.

The victories squared Andover's overall record at 3-3-0, including 2-1-0 for second place in the Large School Division of the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Coach Mike Murnane's crew faced a stiff test last night at Merrimack College, however, hosting Haverhill (4-1-0) which trimmed the locals 6-3 in the opening round of the North Andover Christmas Tournament.

"We're playing a lot better than our final scores indicate," said Murnane. "(Goaltender Ed) Owens has kept us competitive in all the games, as we expected him to, and now the team is starting to come around and grasp the new system.

"The kids are playing with more confidence, which comes with winning, and we've been able to install a couple new forechecks.

"I guess you could say we're struggling offensively (24 goals in six games). We're getting a lot of shots but not many goals to show for it," offered Murnane.

"Matt Pothier is doing it all for us. He's working the powerplay, killing penalties and taking a regular shift. About the only thing we haven't asked him to do yet is carry out the water bottles.

"Bleszinski and Moreau have also been very steady, and the play of sophomores (Sean) Darwin and (Mike) Murnane has taken some of the pressure off the upperclassmen.

"We're also thrilled to have Andy Weiner back."

Senior defenseman and co-captain Weiner returned to the lineup against Lawrence, after missing two games with a kidney injury suffered in the Christmas tourney consolation victory over North Andover.

Andover, 6-4

The Golden Warriors jumped all over Lowell (4-4-0) in the first period, bolting to a commanding 4-1 lead on rapid-fire goals three minutes apart by Matt Pothier (unassisted at 4:23), senior forward Jack Dalton (5:12), sophomore forward Mike Ristuccia (5:58) and senior rearguard Dave Sopp (unassisted at 7:24).

Lowell tied it briefly 1-1 on Sean Dufresne's goal 16 seconds after Pothier lit the lamp.

"We played as well as we have all season in the first period," said Murnane. "But we came up flat in the second period.

"Lowell's goalie (Mark Sousa) also came up big. He stymied us and frustrated our shooters most of the game."

Alpine Race Season Begins

The alpine race season opens this Wednesay with the girls team taking on Haverhill High School and Bishop Fenwick. This year's women's team is led by senior captain Joan Asgerisson who has been racing for the local Buddy Werner League team for the past 10 years. Kathleen Radulski, the other captain, has skied at the varsity level since her freshman year. Andover's number one returning vetran is Amy Heislein who brings plenty of experience to the team as a New Hampshire Federation racer. She will be joined by freshman Amy Heseltine who participated in Tri State Federation. Sophomore Jennifer Recesso is a returning veteran. Junior Eva Derba, sophomores Kerry Grieco, Heather Read and Christine Zappala round out the upperclass racers, but with the addition of freshmen Julie Anderson, Alissa Ginsber, Jennifer Letch, Melanie McGuire, Colleen Shepherd, Debra Soreff and Helen Wood, the B squad should also be strong.

On the men's team senior captains Jerome Guerard and Peter Radulski provide plenty of leadershp for more than 30 aspiring racers. The number one spot appears to be sewed up by junior standout Jon Bicknell who has lots of experience locally and in the Vermont Race Federation. The number two spot could go to Guerard, Terry Retelle, Bob Lowrey, Lance Gomes or Chad Gomes. Radulski and Bob Hughes should round out the top ten. Freshman racer Adam Galaburda has lots of race experience at the local level, Tri State Federation and Vermont Race Federation and is expected to push the veteran racers for a top seed on the team.

The remaining slots on the varsity appear to be up for grabs. Matt Daly is a returning junior who will try to land a spot on varsity as will Mike Dawn, an exchange student from Stockholm, Sweden. John Tiechert is a returning sophomoe who should help out.

The team to beat on the men's schedule is the always powerful St. John's Prep. North Andover may be the only obstacle in the way of the team's chances to go to the state tournament.

The women face their biggest challenge from North Andover and possibly Haverhill who is fielding a much improved team.

Under the new league format, the men's team will race on the hill with the entire league every Tuesday and Thursday although they will only score against the teams they are scheduled to race. This format will be followed by the women's team on Wednesdays. At the conclusion of each varsity race a new course will be set for the developmental team and results will be recorded and standings kept.

Icemen

The Red Raiders climbed back in contention on a pair of goals by Peter Cebrero two minutes apart, midway through the second period, as LHS trimmed the Andover lead to 4-3 after 30 minutes.

Lowell entered the final stanza with momentum on its side, but junior forward Randy Moreau's second goal of the year in the opening minute shifted things quickly.

"We were able to jump on them right away in the third period," stated first-year AHS coach Murnane. "The fifth goal was the key. Once we restored the two-goal cushion we were flying again."

Bleszinski's unassisted goal at 4:33 added some insurance, and then Lowell's Darren Colton added a meaningless tally with seven seconds to play.

Pothier, Darwin and Bleszinski had the only Andover assists.

The Golden Warriors outshot Lowell 13-5, 11-8 and 14-10 by the periods for an overall 38-23 edge.

Junior netminder Owens finished with 19 saves and Sousa had 32 for Lowell.

Andover, 3-2

Doug Bleszinski deposited the Golden Warriors' fifth shorthanded goal of the season with just 3:43 to play, sending Lawrence to its sixth straight defeat.

Matt Pothier made the play work with a superb steal and feed.

Andover was skating one man down when Pothier stripped a Lawrence defenseman of the puck.

"We sent Matt into their zone on a set play," explained Murnane. "We have the off wing attack the defenseman coming out with the puck on the weak side. He plays the body, and in this case Matt also came up with the loose puck.

"He slid a pass into the slot for Doug, who walked in on their goalie (Don Quaglietta) and put the shot past him."

It was a defensive struggle prior to that, but only because Quaglietta made it so.

The Warriors were to finish with a 38-16 shooting advantage, but the Lancer goalie made 35 saves.

"Eddie Owens also played extremely well," said Murnane. "He made 14 saves, but that's deceptive, because a lot of their chances were quality shots in close.

"In the third period Owens faced just four shots, but those included a 2-on-1 and another semi breakaway after we took the 3-2 lead. Those are pretty clutch saves when they come in the final four minutes of a one-goal game."

Mike Murnane Jr. scored the lone goal of the first period, just 21 seconds into the game, with assists to the Randy and Andy Show, Moreau and Weiner.

Charlie Guido tied it for Lawrence at 2:58 of the second period, Darwin gave AHS the lead again just 46 seconds later, and Joe Petrosino retied it for the Lsncers at the 14:00 mark of the stanza.

Place In Swim Meet

Several Andover swimmers placed in a girls' synchronized swim meet hosted by the Andover-North Andover YMCA. They were among over 100 swimmers on eight teams—the Y, Springfield, Worcester, Nashua, N.H., Portsmouth, N.H., Dorchester, Norwell and Quincy—who competed.

Here are the Andover swimmers who placed.

Age Group Figures

Girl Hoopsters Impressive

By Rick Harrison

Consistency marked the performance of the Andover High girls' basketball team, as the Lady Warriors extended their winning streak through four games with impressive victories over twin cities Lowell and Lawrence last week.

The locals improved to 3-1 in the Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division, and 5-1 overall, following a 49-31 conquest of the Red Raiders and 49-36 triumph over the Lancers.

"We're way ahead of where we were at this stage last year," said coach George Sullivan. "After six games last season we were 2-4, with the only victories over Salem and Lawrence."

This time around AHS has already beaten mighty Methuen twice, and gets a third crack at the Rangers tomorrow night at the Dunn Gymnasium.

Earlier this week an MVC division showdown occurred, Andover colliding with an unbeaten Haverhill squad which dealt the locals their lone loss of the campaign one month ago (49-33).

"The early schedule is brutal," said Sullivan. "Having to play Methuen three times and Haverhill twice in your first eight games is extremely difficult."

Andover, 49-31

The Greater-Lawrence Christmas Tournament champs didn't exactly set the world on fire against Lowell, but kept the struggling Red Raiders at bay despite an uninspired effort.

"It was the type of game I was afraid of," admitted Sullivan. "Lowell is not as strong as we thought, and naturally we had a letdown after winning the tournament and beating Methuen twice.

"There were a lot of turnovers, mistakes and bad judgments on our part. We never really got into the flow of the game, although the second half was much better than the first."

The Lady Warriors inched ahead 6-2 in the opening quarter, outscored Lowell 15-9 in each of the next two periods, and then traded buckets with the Red Raiders down the stretch.

Senior forward Julie Salazar pumped in 13 points to spark the balanced AHS offense, which featured nine different scorers.

Christmas tourney MVP Lee Dziadosz continued her fine all-around play, the senior guard flipping in nine points.

Senior forward Kristen Sullivan netted eight points, junior guard Kara Slavin six, junior Nicole Ricci five and junior guard Jodi Jangros three.

DeeDee Castinoli and Kelly Hajj flipped through one fieldgoal apiece, while freshman Grace Perry converted a free throw.

Slavin also pulled down seven rebounds, Dziadosz six, Salazar five and Ricci four.

Andover, 49-36

Dominance in the first and third quarters enabled Andover to send Lawrence reeling, the Lady Warriors jumping to a 12-5 advantage and breaking it open with a 14-6 third-period surge.

In between the Lancers had managed to close within four points (20-16) at halftime, but AHS responded to the challenge.

"The key to the first and third quarters was tough defense," explained Sullivan. "Lawrence played aggressive 'D' which really made us work hard, so we had to come back and match them in that aspect of the game.

"We're playing a lot more man-to-man this year, although we do mix it up with half, three-quarter and full-court pressure," said Sullivan.

"The third period of this game was also the best one we've played all year. We had been experiencing problems, letting teams back into games that quarter."

But not so on this particular evening.

Dziadosz led three Andover players into double digits with 17 points. while Salazar and Slavin notched 10 points each.

Jangro and Ricci contributed five points apiece, and rounding out the charge with a bucket was junior center Kim Daley.

"Our rebounding had been atrocious before this game," noted Sullivan. "But we pulled down 42 against Lawrence

Warrior Swimmers Meet Chelmsford

The Andover High School Golden Warrior varsity swim team swam against the defending Merrimack Valley Conference champion Chelmsford team to start their season. The meet was far closer than the 115-59 score would indicate.

Corey Ouellette, Matt MacVicar, Chris Hart and Brian Mayberry opened with a second-place finish in the 200-yard medley relay. Geoff Schaake and Brad Cronin were second and fourth, respectively, in the 200-yard freestyle. Sean Herlihy was third in the 200 yard individual medley and Mayberry fifth. MacVicar and Hart were third and fourth, respectively, in the 50 free.

MacVicar put six dives cleanly into the Greater Lawrence Tech pool to capture the diving competition. Tri-captain Scott Goddess was fourth.

Tri-captain Hart won the 100 yard butterfly and Matt Jennings was fourth. Tri-captain Ouellette added a second-place finish in the 100 free while Chris DeMartino was fifth. Schaake and Cronin were third and fifth, respectively, in the 500 free. Ouellette was third in the 100 yard backstroke with Jennings right behind and Fred Hohn fifth. Mayberry and Herlihy were third and fourth, respectively, in the 100 yard breaststroke. Tony Walcott, Mike Barrett and Chris and Mike DeMartino were third in the 400 yard freestyle relay.

Heseltine Places First

Amy Heseltine of Andover has placed first among Massachusetts' 13-to-15-year-old ski racers. Her NASTAR (National Standard Race) ranking is based on her single best racing performance from the 1987-88 season.

Skiing at Bradford Ski Area, Heseltine posted a personal season-best 19 handicap, earning a certificate of accomplishment, a patch and a listing on selected rankings posters distributed statewide. First-place winners also receive I-SKI sunglasses and lip "Zingers" from Bonne Bell.

Since the U.S. Ski Team sets NASTAR's standards, Heseltine's 19 handicap means that she raced within 19 percent of the theoretical time posted by Troy Watts of Breckenridge, Colo., the U.S. Ski team's fastest NASTAR racer.

"Earning this ranking is a real accomplishment for a young skier," says NASTAR Commissioner Bob Beattie. U.S. Ski Team head coach John McMurtry agrees, "The future of American ski racing is in the talent and enthusiasm of our youth. I'm proud of kids like Amy, who give racing their best shot."

The Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR program ranks the top 10 boys and girls from six age categories in all 50 states. More than 100,000 youths raced in the program last season at 60 areas nationwide.

In addition to national and state rankings honors, young skiers can win gold, silver and bronze NASTAR medals each time they race. Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR is America's largest youth recreational ski racing program and is open to kids of all abilities.

The Andover Ski Club is accepting members for the 1988-89 season. Contact Mary Durant of Gemini Circle for information.

Biff Hajj paced St. Augustine's D with 4 points, Damien Turco, Jonathan Leonard and Dana Fritsch had fieldgoals, Paul McNeice a pair of free throws and Ed Stewart one foul shot.

St. Robert's C, 22-14

St. Robert's C led 11-2 after one quarter, 14-2 at halftime and 16-6 after three in their 22-14 win over St. Robert's A.

Ian Begg and Matt Werner had 7 points each, Scott Savage chipped in 3, Rick Santagati 2, Jeff Thompson 2 and Tim Campbell converted a free throw.

Brian Tisbert had 4 points for the A-team, Nick Kyslowsky 2, Kevin Young 2, Kevin Shepard 2, Chris Kearn 2 and Teddy Witman 2.

St. Augustine's E, 20-19

St. Augustine's E earned the 20-19 victory in a game against South that was close from the start to the final buzzer.

SAE led 10-8 at halftime, but Lee Baron (4 points) led a 9-6 charge in the third period for a 17-16 South advantage.

St. Augustine's eked out the win in the final stanza on baskets by Brian Hussey and Chris Rogers. Scott Gray's field goal provided the only scoring for South in the fourth quarter.

Hussey finished with 6 points, Rogers added 4, Mike Shepard 4, Frank Ferrucci 2, Billy Ryan 2 and Patrick Sharkey 2.

Baron, Lyle Morgan and Lucas Lavin had 4 points each for South, Bill Edwards 3, Gray 2 and Deron Ebans 2.

Ballardvale B, 23-16

Ballardvale B clung to an 8-5 halftime lead and put the game way with an 11-0 run in the third period to win 23-16 against St. Augustine's A.

Greg Litchfield had 7 points, Mike Tromby added 6, Nate roberts 4, Tom Boutureira 4 and Jeff Howe 2.

Chris Hoffman had 10 points for SAA, Justin Connors had 4 and Peter Daniels 2.

which is an encouraging sign."

Kara Slavin once again led the way with 11 boards.

"Kara did a tremendous job boxing people out, keeping Lawrence off the glass despite taking a physical beating.

"Lawrence likes to play it tough."

Sullivan had a personal stake in the victory as well, having coached five of the Lawrence girls at summer camp.

"Situations like that help make this job a lot of fun," he noted. "Those girls were out 'to get the coach' and I'm sure it would have given them a little extra pleasure to beat me."

The Lady Warriors shot close to 50 per cent from the floor, Dziadosz hitting 6-of-13, Salazar 4-of-7 and Slavin 3-of-6.

They also produced 15 points from the free throw line.

Andover JVs

The Andover junior varsity stood at 2-2 entering this week's play, beating Lowell and Lawrence last week after earlier setbacks to Haverhill and Methuen.

Down The Years

home of Mrs. M.P. Graham on Johnson road to hear Lispenard Phister speak on "Proportional Representation," and to participate in the demonstration election.

The two local banks, the Savings bank and the National bank, held their annual meetings this week.

25 Years Ago — January 1964

Confirmation that the old barn on Maple ave., actually was an original town fire station was received this week from a man who should know. John A. Flint said he hitched a ride on the moving barn when the builders were taking it to Maple ave. from its Main st. location.

Once again, the Andover Board of Trade will seek the town's aid in support of the Christmas lighting program.

Two candidates took out nomination papers for a position on the Board of Selectmen. They are Roger W. Collins of Maple Avenue and J. Paul Herbert of Rennie Drive.

Robert E. Sherman of Lucerne Drive has announced his candidacy for a position on the Andover School Committee.

10 Years Ago — January 1978

While the decision on whether to renovate or build a new East Junior High has yet to be made, the School Committee voted to set aside further study of the former for the time being and to concentrate on new construction.

David R. Ahouse, chairman of the School Committee, is not expected to seek re-election when his term expires with the annual town election on March 26.

John W. Aulson of Topsfield has been named purchasing agent for the town and began his new duties on Monday. He will be coordinating the purchasing of town and school departments.

Among the victims of tight budgeting for the coming fiscal year will be the street lighting program.

A further restructuring of town government, which would result in Assistant Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen losing his present post, has been presented to selectmen for consideration by Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark. The position of assistant manager would be abolished and replaced by the director of finance and budget, thus no increase in personnel.

Andover voters may cast their ballots at a single polling place in the town election. The Selectmen approved Town Clerk Elden Salter's recommendation that the high school gymnasium be used as the polling place for the town's eight precincts.

Introducing the new Mercedes-Benz 190E 2.6.
Go out and play.

HERE'S AN INVITATION for people who love to drive. The new 1989 Mercedes-Benz 190E 2.6 Sedan. With smooth six-cylinder power and a decidedly cleaner, more aggressive profile, inching the 190E 2.6 toward aerodynamic perfection. Fully independent multilink rear suspension, anti-lock braking and a Supplemental Restraint System with driver's-side air bag are standard safety features. Striking a balance between your yen for roadholding performance and your need for driving peace of mind. The new 190. The serious antidote to humdrum driving.

LIKE NO OTHER DEALERS IN THE WORLD.

Bereavement Group Is Re-forming

Merrimack Valley Hospice, after its recent success in its December holiday bereavement group, has planned a follow-up group to begin in January.

The December group, held on successive Thursdays at the agency's Andover headquarters, was attended by 15 people who, within the last year, had experienced th loss of a husband or wife. The group was designed to offer a safe, supportive environment where members can share their feelings among others who understand their loss first-hand.

The January group will be held at the One Union St. building and will be facilitated by specially trained Hospice bereavement counselors and therapists. According to James Gulla, Hospice bereavement coordinator, "The holidays and new year are often very difficult times for individuals and families who have lost a loved one, especially those who have lost someone during the holiday season."

For further information or to reserve a space, contact Gulla.

Selectmen Vote To Post Meetings Of Non-Profit Corporations

The Board of Selectmen agreed Monday night to open meetings of the town's non-profit corporations.

The selectmen directed Town Manager Kenneth Mahony to determine what town corporations are holding meetings and to have those gatherings posted.

Their request was prompted by a citizen petition from Margaret Cronin, 20 Summer St., who questioned why the groups were able to circumvent the state open meeting law.

Some of the non-profit corporations include the Shawsheen Extended Day program and the Andover Council for the Performing Arts.

Nursery Registration Underway

The West Parish Nursery School, 129 Reservation Road, is accepting applications for the school year beginning in September. Currently in its 29th year of operation, the school is a parent-run, non-profit, non-sectarian program.

The philosophy of the school is to provide a creative and stimulating atmosphere in which the preschool child can learn and develop as an individual. By fostering self-confidence, cooperation, responsibility and creativity, West Parish Nursery encourages the growth of the child's positive self-esteem.

Three-day and four-day programs, meeting from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., are available to children 3 years old by Sept. 1. For registration information, contact Meryl Holber, 23 Lincoln Circle East.

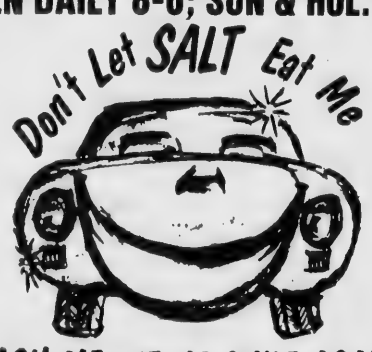

Accountants To Meet Wednesday

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will hold its monthly technical meeting at Bishop's Restaurant in Lawrence Wednesday, Jan. 18, at 6 p.m. Joseph Ambash, an attorney with Foley, Hoag & Eliot, will present an overview of the legal aspects of hiring and firing. Ambash has successfully represented many corporate clients in labor-related law suits.

Anyone interested in attending or further information should contact Eileen R. Proulx of Salem, N.H.

Owner Peg Gorham

Gorham Decorating Center

Gorham Decorating Center has the expertise and products to serve your needs, whether you're starting from scratch or updating your present furnishings. You will be able to choose from a variety of products that are on display, including wallpaper, fabric, picture frames, ceramic tile, slipcovers, reupholstering fabric and custom paints tinted to your needs. They carry window treatments of every description. Knotted swags, bishops sleeves, balloons, mini and vertical blinds and cornice boards are among the most popular currently. They can recommend interesting solutions for unusually shaped windows.

Optix blinds are a new product available at Gorham Decorating Center. They combine the qualities of having an optical blind and an opaque blind all in one. Optix blinds give all the clear benefits of transparent blinds, plus, at the twist of the wand, provide privacy without darkening the room. They can also be raised wide open for total enjoyment of your view.

Owner Peg Gorham and her assistant Patti Longo will welcome you with their friendly personalities and please you with their dedication to individual service, their extensive knowledge of interior decorating and imaginative incorporation of the newest trends.

Gorham Decorating Center continues to update the vignettes in their spacious, bright showroom with current trends in decorating for both the home and office.

A consultant is available to visit your home or office to advise you on coordinating and beautifying your decor.

Hours are Monday through Friday from 9:00 to 6:00 and Saturday from 9:00 to 5:00. Gorham Decorating Center is located at 581 Chickering Road, North Andover.

l. to r. Realtor Carol Calistro and Owner Paul J. McAskill

Century 21 McAskill

The entusiastic staff of realtors at Century 21 McAskill is dedicated to serving their customers and making the selling or buying of a home as pleasurable as possible. Owner Paul J. McAskill has lived in the area all of his life and is familar with the local real estate market. Before opening his office in Andover last May, he owned McAskill Real Estate in Tewksburu. Century 21 McAskill has been remodeled and tastefully decorated for efficiency and the comfort of their customers.

In the near future, Paul McAskill will represent Sandlewood Circle, a ten lot subdivision in Tewksbury of custom designed homes. Prices will range between $275,000 and $325,000. He offers an unique free design service to assist the buyer in having the home built that best suits his needs. he often meets with subcontractors, at the job site, to clarify buyer requests, change orders and/or extras. His services are available from ground breaking through final closing. He understands the business from the ground up and can facilitate communication between the buyer and seller. Paul mcAskill has over fifteen years experience as a general contractor and has designed several homes from scratch.

On properties that they list, a Century 21 realtor accompanies ALL showings of that home to insure the seller every sales advantage because he is well acquainted with the property.

Century 21 McAskill is a member of three multiple listing services. They belong to a worldwide referral network consisting of 7,000 offices. They are available seven days a week and welcome any opportunity to discuss their marketing program with a potential seller. They will furnish general information on each community of interest to the buyer. They will assist in finding mortgage money at the best rates available.

Century 21 McAskill is located at 125 Main Street, Andover (next to the Andover Shop). Telephone: 470-0094. R.C. Bernal

Busy Bee Tailoring

"Are you too busy? Drop your tailoring off with us. The whole town's buzzing about our work because we're so fussy about the details." No wonder the town's buzzing! Busy Bee Tailoring is the place that can take care of all sewing, mending and tailoring needs.

They are excellent with the usual and exceptional with the unusual challenges brought in by their customers. They are skilled in leather repair and can make a ripped jacket look like new. Many skiers bring in their clothes for alterations to achieve that perfect fit. They are currently known for their expertise in bridal restoration. They are currently restoring a gown which will be worn by the origi nal bride's granddaughter.

All is not lost if a team uniform splits just before that important game -Busy Bee will repair it. They even repair intricate beading. They create entire wedding party gowns (flower girls, bridesmaids, maid-of-honor, bride and mother of the bride). They are capable of minor and the most complicated major alterations. Custom made women's clothes is one of their specialties.

One of the many problems solved by Busy Bee Tailoring is perfecting the construction of the Cozy Crib Tent for Tots in Mind. They recently completed uniforms for the new Marriott Courtyard Hotel.

They are especially skilled in creative custom work. They carry a large inventory of specialty supplies and have access to manufacturers' supplies. They are called on by local cleaners to do complicated work that cleaners can not handle.

Owners Betty MacDonald and Rita Couture serve on the Advisory Board of the Clothing Arts Department at the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational School.

Busy Bee Tailoring is conveniently located at 37 Farley Street, Lawrence, just off South Broadway. Hours are Monday through Friday from 8:00 to 5:30, Thursday from 8:00 to 8:00 and Saturday from 8:00 to 1:00. Telephone: (508) 794-3877.

Winter Safety

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children offers these tips for keeping children healthy and happy during the winter season:

• Dress children in clothing that stays warm and dry. Use boots with good traction.

• Never leave a young child alone near a frozen lake. Call town officials for safe skating areas.

• Teach children to use handrails in icy places.

• Know bus schedules. Children shouldn't wait long.

• Keep lit candles out of reach of young children.

• Children should not play alone in the woods, especially after a heavy snowfall.

• Never leave a young child home alone.

• Youngsters should not be out alone in the dark. Adopt the "buddy" system.

• Identify a friendly neighbor for emergencies and give work numbers.

HOMELESSNESS. It's not child's play.

For most of us, the place we call home is something to be treasured. Yet for the many homeless people throughout New England, "home" is nothing more than a distant dream. At Commonwealth, our dream is that everyone have a place to call home. As a small step toward that goal, we will contribute $50 to the Massachusetts Coalition for the Homeless through WCVB-TV's "Project Shelter" for every approved mortgage application received during December and January.

If you're looking for a home loan, give us a call. Together, we can reach for our dreams.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

THE PAPERWORK

If you're selling a home, the most important part of the transaction occurs after you've found a buyer. If your property is being professionally marketed, the selling agent puts together the purchase offer, then gets together with the lister to present it to you. If you're trying to sell your home on your own, using a form purchased from a local stationary store, you could run into problems.

Each local Board of Realtors has its attorneys draft up standard forms that reflect the legal requirements of the jurisdiction in which you live. These contract forms include the sales price, who pays which closing costs, termite clauses, financing contingencies, structural inspections, settlement deadlines, and other terms that are included to meet local government requirements. These forms are complicated, and a slight variation in language can often cost or save you thousands of dollars. If you're planning to sell and are thinking about doing it on your own to save the brokerage fee, you might find that it's a false economy. Many of our listings come from people who thought their homes were sold, only to lose the would-be buyers at the last minute on a technicality.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate. Call us at 685-5000 or stop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Board Reviews Proposed Day Care

By Julie M. Barry

The fate of a day care facility located at City North, the former Shetland property, is still up in the air.

At Tuesday night's meeting, the Planning Board reviewed a site plan for the construction of Bright Horizons Daycare Center, the proposed facility to be built at City North. But board members did not make a decision regarding its fate. Instead, they asked for more information, especially in regard to traffic flow.

The board intends to visit the site before making a final decision and recommendation to the Zoning Board of Appeals, said Chairman Russ Moran.

The ZBA must approve a special permit to build the facility within 300 feet of residential land and that decision is still pending.

The town's planning staff, according to physical planner Steve Colyer, supports the concept of a day care facility in that area. But he suggested possibly building it in an alternate location because there's some concern about blasting during construction and its effect on abutting land.

Attorney Gerald Cohen, representative of City North and Bright Horizons Daycare, said blasting companies are insured for any damage that might take place on neighboring property.

As for an alternate location, Cohen said there was none from a planning stand point. The day care center is positioned in the "best area," he said.

The only possibility would be moving it across a private way. This is still close to the abutting residential property, said Cohen, and it's more visually obtrusive than the proposed location.

While abutting homeowners who attended the meeting say construction at City North is an improvement, they did express concern about the increased traffic flow and the proximity of the building to their land.

Cartwright Castaldi of York Street suggested building the facility at an alternate location in City North.

As planned, Bright Horizons Daycare would be built to the rear of York Street, near the bridge to Kenilworth Street. Two roads would allow access to the center, making it convenient for parents to drop off and pick up their children, Cohen said.

The building would not be obtrusive to abutting homeowners, said Cohen. All but one of the lots on abutting land is elevated above the site of the center, and bushes and trees would serve as visual screens to the neighboring property, he said.

The one-story building would house 100 children. While the majority would probably be children of employees who work at the City North complex, it is possible that a certain number of slots could be slated for community children.

PACs To Hold Saturday Workshop

The Andover and North Andover Parents' Advisory Councils for Children with Special Needs will hold a workshop Saturday, Jan. 21, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the North Andover Middle School cafeteria.

Organizers say the workshop is for the person whose child is being tested for a suspected learning problem; is receiving tutoring, therapy or resource room instruction; or is in a substantially separate classroom. Anyone who is looking for a solution to an educational problem would also benefit from the workshop, said Pat Pakos, a member of Andover's Chapter 766 PAC.

Contact Pat Pakos of 2 Heritage Lane or Betsy Devaney of 276 Andover St., North Andover.

Meals On Wheels Needs Driver

For over six months, an expanded seven-day Meals on Wheels program has been stalled because the town can't find a driver to bring food to the elderly, town officials said.

Although the program was funded effective last July, for lack of a driver—who would be paid $7.50 per hour for six hours—senior shut-ins are barely closer to weekend service than when the idea was conceived more than 18 months ago.

"I would think it would be a perfect job for a college student," said Dorothy Winn, town coordinator of Elder Affairs. But at $7.50 per hour, "I guess they can get themselves a job at MacDonald's."

The Meals on Wheels program is aimed at feeding disabled seniors who are unable to shop, and in some cases, cook for themselves. A doctor's note is required to qualify.

Finding a vendor to cook on the weekends had been a hinderance, but the Academy Manor Nursing Home recently indicated they could provide meals seven days a week, said Winn.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, a longtime supporter, praised the new schedule as a "very important innovation in that state and federal people seem convinced that seniors only eat Monday through Friday."
